

Respect

Men's advice line

Respect

Phoneline

Respect

Working to end domestic abuse by creating:

- Change for individuals
- Systems change
- Social change

Respect

Men's advice line

- Launched in 2007
- Male victims and concerned others
- Emotional support, practical advice, information and signposting
- Emergency accommodation referral pathway
- Rail to refuge scheme

Respect

Phoneline

- Launched in 2003
- Men and women using violence and abuse
- Listening support, ownership, responsibility and choice
- Harm minimisation & safety planning
- Self help tools
- Signpost to accredited perpetrator interventions

Respect
Men's advice line

Respect
Phoneline

Telephone helpline & email support
(Monday to Friday 9.00am – 8.00pm)

Webchat
(Wednesday to Friday 10-11am & 3-4pm)

Weekend email support service
(10-12pm & 4-6pm)

FRONTLINE WORKERS

Respect
Men's advice line

Respect toolkit for working with male victims of domestic abuse.

It includes research on men's experiences and needs, case studies, assessment forms and more.

Respect Male Victims Standards 2019

Accreditation to help recognise high-quality, safety-focused interventions and services.

Respect
Phoneline

Respect RIC - risk identification toolkit to use directly with perpetrators

Engage - Roadmap to ensure a coordinated multi-agency response to perpetrator work.

Factsheets and research document - Steps Towards Change

- <https://www.facebook.com/UKRespect/>
- <https://twitter.com/RespectUK>
- https://www.instagram.com/respect\_uk/
- <https://www.linkedin.com/in/respectuk>

|